Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr.

Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr. was born on January 15, 1929 in Atlanta, Georgia. He had a brother, Alfred, and a sister, Christine. His father and grandfather were both pastors. When Martin was growing up in the South, segregation was the law. As a student in school young Martin could not attend the same school as white children.

After graduating from high school Martin went to college where he eventually became a pastor like his father. While in college Martin Luther King Jr. studied the works of Mohandas Gandhi who sought to bring about change through non-violent means.

Dr. Martin Luther King became the pastor of a church in Montgomery, Alabama. He was also on the leadership of the NAACP and later elected president of the Southern Leadership Conference. In these positions Dr. King spoke out against racism, wrote against racism, and protested peacefully against racial inequality all across the nation. His most famous speech was called the "I have a Dream" speech and was delivered to over 200,000 people in Washington, D.C. He received the Nobel Peace Prize in 1964 and was chosen as Time Magazines "Man of the Year".

He was assassinated on April 4, 1968 in Memphis, Tennessee. His birthday, January 15, is now celebrated as a national holiday.
